

that
of rrin
two of 1806
was
were rrin
eek.
two 810,
the
the
to and
the
orted
the
ntain
lings
eting
"if
and
lings
egate
name
with
and
isms,
buted

Reedy
ardson
itions
d one shilling for missions reported. This license into the ministry was for George W. Collier.

Thus the William Garner years ended at Fountain Creek. There is no information other than the above to portray the man who "took care of the church in its organization," but one sees his work in what was produced. The church prospered, the church participated on occasion in the annual associational meetings, and the ground was laid for active giving to the cause of missions in the surrounding communities.